

LeaderCare is important...

Exceptional times call for exceptional leaders. Leaders who, despite disruption and uncertainty, remain grounded, make those tough calls and deliver key information. In doing so, they inspire others to navigate these circumstances skillfully and collaboratively.

With LeaderCare, Breakthrough Collaboration offers a modular program to address three crucial leadership areas, with content curated specifically for times of crisis:

Compassionate Leadership: boosting your well-being and mobilizing others to be their best

Informative Leadership: communicating targeted, timely and actionable messages

Agile Leadership: flexibility, prioritizing, direction-setting

LeaderCare is support and skills ...

LeaderCare provides complete, confidential support from your dedicated team of 3 consultant-coaches. They will ensure you have resources to successfully lead your team, unit or institution through this new reality. Consider them as advisors when you're weighing crucial decisions and crafting key communications. And, count on them for practical advice to help you boost your personal resilience, maintain your motivation, and help your staff do the same.

Our modular offering allows you to customize the content and delivery of your program. All programs are delivered via videoconference for...

- Individual Leaders
- Intact Leadership Teams
- Groups

LeaderCare is results...

- Helping leaders sustain a high level of leadership capacity under stress
- Increasing their ability to navigate dynamic situations and relationships
- Amplifying participants sense of community through group sessions
- Creating an environment for deeper learning through the exchange of ideas and techniques among group cohorts
- Strengthening connections and collaboration even when working remotely